

T&E is 10% of an average company's budget, and SAP Concur can help every CIO control it.

You might be surprised to see where the next phase of your intelligent enterprise will be built. But when you see all the time and money wrapped up in managing the systems that manage your travel and expense spending, you will quickly see that this is a smart way to save.

Travel, expense, and invoice management eats up tens of millions of dollars of your company's budget and untold thousands of hours of manual effort. By automating and integrating travel, expense, and invoice processes in the cloud with SAP Concur, you can:

- Help finance get visibility into and control over spending
- Reduce the time spent managing T&E systems
- Improve the employee experience, while making it easier for them to stay in policy
- Embed intelligence into every part of the T&E process
- Get more out of your investment

Capturing spending wherever it happens, versus trying to make everyone spend in one place.

The intelligent enterprise runs on data, so anything you can do to capture that data is critical. SAP Concur connects spending data in the SAP Digital Platform, giving you one place to manage everything, even as your employees increasingly expect to be able to book and buy travel any way they wish.

No matter how travelers spend – even if it's outside the corporate booking tool – your can see and control it.

Here's how it works: SAP Concur connects with suppliers like Hertz and Hilton, it integrates with apps and brands like Uber and Airbnb, and it receives data feeds directly from corporate cards. So you and your IT leaders can give their finance peers all the spending data they need.

Measurable Impact

A 2018 IDC analysis shows SAP Concur customers see, on average:

650%
three-year ROI

5 months
to payback

Artificial intelligence, machine learning, and other brilliant ideas.

With SAP Concur, CIOs get a system that uses intelligent technologies to improve and refine travel, expense and invoice processes, allowing them to:

- Automatically capture and categorize invoices and receipts
- Capture and use spending and itinerary data to locate travelers and support duty of care
- Automatically audit every expense report and eliminate costly, manual processes

Easy integration, inside and outside any company.

Integrating with the SAP digital core – and across the SAP Intelligence Suite – allows data to flow back and forth automatically, so your organization's information is always up to date, and IT doesn't have to devote all its time and resources to managing systems from multiple vendors.

SAP Concur also features built-in integrations with a network of solution providers that can help you manage everything from VAT and other tax requirements to mobile spending, continually extending the value their solution.

Travel, expense, and invoice. A critical part of the intelligent enterprise, only from SAP Concur.
