

Build Clarity, Not Confusion with Consultative Intelligence

Another Smart Way to Enhance Your SAP® Concur® Solution

Extending your solution helps you deliver more impact. So you can find cost effective ways to boost productivity and reduce risk. So you can get better visibility into spending and create efficient, compliant processes that elevate the employee experience. And so your entire company can reach its potential.

Better Data is the Best Place to Start

Planning is vital to financial health, but planning without accurate data is risky. You need more expense and spending updates to stay ahead of costs and cashflow. You need to eliminate inaccuracies to avoid dragging down margins or limiting investment opportunities. And you need reliable, near-real-time reporting to support long-term planning and everyday decisions.

But how do you accurately assess the past so you can effectively predict the future?

Get Insights You Need Without Spending Time You Don't Have

Your SAP Concur solutions pump out piles of data points, just like they're supposed to. But because you have a million other things to do, you're likely just scratching the surface of what this data is capable of.

- You may not know where to begin.
- You might not be sure what kinds of insights are out there.
- You probably can't imagine turning mountains of data into moments of discovery.

With Consultative Intelligence, you get a personalized Reporting Specialist who will:

1. Set up the reports you need, so you see spending insights automatically.
2. Take the time to figure out which reports will help you the most.
3. Share best practices for companies like yours.

When your reports come out, your Reporting Specialist will help you interpret the results. So you'll be able to assess what your data is telling you and use that insight to lay the foundation for continual improvement all across your company.

What Can Consultative Intelligence Do for Your Business?
